

Up-to-date

South African Fresh Peaches
 South African Fresh Apricots
 Belgian Colomar Grapes
 Belgian Fresh Endive
 Florida Strawberries
 Florida Wax and Green Beans
 Florida Fresh Lettuce
 Florida White Squash
 California Fresh Limes
 Philadelphia Capons (Cheap)
 Native Turkeys (Extra fine)

SOMERS

Have You Read

"Mother?"

It is one of the best books of the season.

On Sale At

CRANSTON'S

WALTHAM WATCHES

GOLD FILLED CASES.
 GUARANTEED 20 YEARS.
 Prices $9.50 to $12.00 each.

The Plant-Cadden Co.

Jewelers and Silversmiths.
 Established 1872.
 PLANT-CADDEN BUILDING.
 We do fine Watch Repairing.

FRANCIS G. BROWN MEMORIAL.

Circular Letter Sent Yale Alumni Explaining Why Fund is Projected.

A letter sent Yale alumni reads as follows:

Dear Sir:—At the decennial reunion meeting of the class of 1901, the undersigned were appointed a committee to receive subscriptions for a memorial to the late Francis Gordon Brown, and were further empowered to decide on the form that this memorial should assume, after consulting with the Yale university authorities.

Francis Gordon Brown died at Glen Head, L. I., on May 10, 1911. He was the son of Francis Gordon Brown and Julia Tracy Brown. Prepared at Groton school where he was the senior perfect and captain of the football team, he entered Yale with the class of 1901. At Yale his record as an athlete was a remarkable one. He played on the university football team in his freshman year, was a member of the team for four years, and in his senior year was captain. He was captain of his freshman crew and rowed at No. 5 in the university boat in his sophomore year. He was also a member of the track team in his senior year. In spite of his many athletic activities, he was an earnest student, attaining a Phi Beta Kappa stand at the end of his first two years, and graduating second to the head of his class.

Upon leaving college, he entered the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co. in New York city. He applied himself earnestly to his work and it was the opinion of those in a position to know that his ability would undoubtedly soon have obtained for him prominence in the financial world.

On April 27, 1905, he married Caroline Lawrence Bogart and is survived by her and a son who bears his father's name.

As a man Gordon Brown was loved and admired by all who knew him. It is for this reason the committee thought it wise not to confine this memorial to his own class. We feel that there are many outside of his own class and college who would like to help in perpetuating the memory of such a man.

The memorial fund is to be used for some educational purpose connected with Yale university. The aim of the committee will be to make that purpose conform as closely as possible to what they believe would have been the wish of the one whose life it is to commemorate. They will also endeavor so to frame the deed of gift that it will be a constant reminder to the undergraduate that the name of Gordon Brown stands for all that is highest and noblest in the life of Yale. While the general form of the memorial has been tentatively decided upon, its final adoption is contingent upon raising a minimum fund the sum of $25,000. The committee is now prepared to receive subscriptions.

Blanks are enclosed for subscriptions to be accompanied by payment, or for subscriptions payable at some future date (in installments if desired). The committee earnestly requests those intending to subscribe to notify the treasurer at the earliest date possible.

Very truly yours,
 Julian Day,
 For the Committee.

The committee: Thomas W. Russell, William W. Hoppin, Jr., John H. Ford, Herbert Scoville, Julian Day, treasurer, No. 46 Wall Street New York city.

Defeat and Half Victories.
 Congressional party caucuses which keep a journal of proceedings open to the public are open enough for all practical purposes. Bryan's "defeat" here is more than half a victory.—New York World.

No Objections from Billy.
 William Muldoon, conditioner of men, says the race is deteriorating in the scramble for money. Hence the necessity for Muldoon's farm.—Chicago Post.

The first trial for breach of promise has been held in England during the reign of Queen Elizabeth.

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Friday, Jan. 19, 1912.

VARIOUS MATTERS

The weatherwise will watch conditions tonight, when the moon is new. Don't forget to go to the Elks' fair tonight at Olympic hall.—adv.

Wednesday was Antion day with the Swedish people. Thursday was Hilda day.

Lumbermen are taking advantage of the snow on the ground to get their big logs out of the woods.

Sunday, Jan. 28, is to be observed as Young People's day in all Universalist churches throughout the country.

The ice which encrusted the trees melted in Thursday's thaw, and apparently has done little to injure the buds.

Florida visitors write home that the weather has been much colder than usual, heavy clothing being required.

Everybody had a good time at the Elks' fair last night. You better come tonight.—adv.

Past State Master L. H. Healy of Woodstock is to install the officers at the next meeting of the grand at Redding Ridge.

John F. Limerick, who has recently been elected chief of the Manchester fire department, is a nephew of Timothy Sullivan of this city.

A coil of stamps can now be obtained at the postoffice. These come by the 500 to the collector and are convenient for those who use many stamps at one time.

At the meeting of the Waterbury board of charities Wednesday, Dr. Louis T. Cassidy was elected one of the city physicians to serve for the next six months.

Don't forget the masquerade ball given by the Sons of Hermann at Froelich's hall tonight.—adv.

The sliding continued to be good despite the thaw Thursday evening, many enjoyed a run on Broadway hill and other hills about the city.

Thursday was the fourth anniversary of the death of Edmund Clarence Stedman, the banker-poet, one of the most illustrious sons of Norwich. He was born in 1834.

In this city on Wednesday Thomas Spencer of Taftville and Frances Bradbury of Redville, Mass., were united in marriage by John H. Barnes, justice of the peace.

In several places about the state as well as in Unadilla, the ground has already been seen, although it is not supposed to appear until Candlemas day, February 2.

Senators Bailey and Brandegee and Representative Tilson of Connecticut will accompany the president today to New Haven to attend the annual banquet of the chamber of commerce there tonight.

About twenty members of Norwich grange went to Groton Wednesday in a mule-drawn sleigh, to assist at the installation of Bozrah grange. An appetizing oyster supper was greatly appreciated by the visitors.

Don't fail to see Tom Norris, the funny man at the candy counter, at the Elks' fair.—adv.

Several from Norwich have visited the art exhibit at Hartford, where Director George Albert Thompson of the Norwich art school, although paintings, in all, seventy-seven paintings and nine pieces of sculpture are shown.

It has been decided that the motor-car on the Groton & Stonington railroad shall have seats provided. They may not, however, inside the car, but this rule will permit their use over about two-thirds of the trip from Groton to Westerly.

In the report of the meeting of The King's Daughters at Trinity Methodist church, Wednesday evening, credit should have been given the efficient committee on refreshments, Mrs. J. H. Allen, chairman, Mrs. John C. Morgan, and Mrs. Russell Woodward.

While the farming acreage size of the farms of Connecticut is about four acres less than in 1900 the value has advanced enormously. The gain is about forty per cent, while the average value per acre goes up fifty per cent, from $22.48 in 1900 to $33.93 in 1910.

A test between Chief Egan and former Officer Loucks of Warrenville developed in the Bridgeport police court when Judge Booth of Danbury sat in the case of E. J. McGuire, who was elected to the position of liquor violation. Although Egan testified for McGuire, the dealer was fined $30 and costs.

An effort is to be made to form an asparagus growers' association in this state, at the close of the convention of the Connecticut Pomological society, in Hartford, February 7. It is hoped to put the asparagus growing business on a paying basis by the co-operative help of the growers and the government.

Uncle Sam has made a new rule in regard to rural carriers, and postmasters throughout the country are required to deduct from their salaries for each partial failure to serve the route entirely. Carriers are requested to use every endeavor to serve the route by traveling every road available.

Secretary of State Rogers is stimulating local authorities to look sharp after violators of the auto marker law. This year's style of marker is white figures on a green background. Nothing else is legal. The penalty for writing markers not in compliance with the law is as stringent as for using no markers at all.

A bird lover, writing to encourage the feeding of birds in cold weather, states that they will return to the trees upon which food had been hung for them in most cases show their gratitude by hunting insects or eggs on the same trees. They are the best kind of tree doctors. This method is cheaper than spraying.

In the matter of abandoning the Block Island cable, the opinion is generally expressed that the government would make a great mistake in even considering the advisability of depending entirely on wireless service from Block Island, even though it should be demonstrated that it could be satisfactorily established and maintained.

To Distribute Estate.
 Judge L. P. Waldo Marvin of Hartford, has ordered the distribution of the estate of C. J. Anderson, who died Feb. 8, 1911, to the known heirs-at-law, one son, John O. Anderson, who has been unheard of for more than seven years is presumed to have died before his father. The known heirs are Lottie Anderson, widow of the deceased, and the following children, Ida L. Munson, Kaneville, Ill.; Hannah H. Golen, Ivoryton; Charlotte A. Battery and Bessie Cummings, both of Hartford, and Lena Davenport of Boston.

In 1911 foreign countries invested $1,000,000 in American farming machinery.

PERSONAL

F. R. Jones of Norwich is visiting relatives in East Berlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Young are at Atlantic City for a short stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Campbell, formerly of Norwich, are leaving New London, March 1, for Waterbury.

OBITUARY.

George G. Gates.
 The death of George G. Gates occurred at his home, No. 19 Ann street, Thursday afternoon about 2 o'clock, after a long illness, covering a period of about a year, while he had been confined to his bed for the past month.

Mr. Gates was born in New London, Sept. 21, 1834, the son of Eli and Mary Snow (Clancy) Gates. He has been a resident of Norwich for a long term of years and was a prominent resident of the West Side. Most of his life he was engaged in the conduct of a market, being a butcher by trade. For a number of years past he had been acting as a teamster. He was a man who was held in high regard by the community, and his loss will be deeply regretted. He was a man of fine character, possessing a well balanced disposition and an interesting personality.

Mr. Gates died last March. Mrs. Gates is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Ada Copeland of Houston, Tex., a grandson, T. E. Jewett of that city, and a daughter, Desha Babcock of Boston, who has cared for her father during his long illness. He also leaves a nephew, Arthur Gates of Bermuda, and a niece, Mrs. W. T. Crandall. He attended the Methodist church.

Joseph Gledhill.

Joseph Gledhill, aged 58, died at the Backus hospital at 6 o'clock Thursday morning following an illness of four days with pneumonia. He also suffered from blood poisoning, and was injured to his knee which he received about three weeks ago. He was born in England but had made this city his home for some time. He has a nephew in this city and another in Providence.

Edith Rouleau.

Edith Rouleau, aged 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rouleau, of 21 Elm street, died at 6 o'clock Thursday morning with diphtheria following an illness of two weeks. She was the youngest of four children. Edward, aged 7 years, was taken with the disease, and Thursday afternoon was taken to the Backus hospital.

FUNERAL.

Miss Mary Kane.
 The funeral of Miss Mary Kane was held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at St. John's church, Pittville, Rev. David O'Donnell officiating. Many friends and relatives were present and the services were beautiful and many. The bearers were Jeremiah Sweeney, Fred Rogers, Frank McManus, Edward Lewis, Patrick Keane, and Walter Brown. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery. Shea & Burke had charge of the arrangements.

Connecticut Patents.

The list of patents issued to Connecticut inventors for the week ending Jan. 18, 1912, follows: George Baker, Torrington, insulator knob; George C. Bloksander, Stamford, speed controlling mechanism for revolving doors; Otto W. Boehm, Meriden, filing machine; Robert C. Cole, West Hartford, fuse block contact post; James E. Doolittle, Bridgeport, front clamp cover and nut for car wheels; George P. Fenner, New London, driving mechanism for ink rollers; Joseph F. Lamb, New Britain, molder's flange and band; George W. Lewis, W. Manville, Waterbury, wire feeding mechanism; Charles J. Luce, Niantic, cotton press; Albert T. Marshall, Hartford, temperature control of refrigerating compartments; Harrison D. Nobles, East Hartford, grease roller; Joseph Pullit, New Haven, curtain pole; Warren A. Saul, Bridgeport, saw; Martin V. Smith, Hartford, piston; Edward O. Tetrault, Hartford, package reamer; Alonzo A. Warner, New Britain, roller retaining device; Carlisle Baldwin, New Britain, design for mail box.

Hearing Before Judge Greene.

In the court of common pleas room there was a hearing in chambers before Judge Gardner Greene on Thursday regarding the petition of the Mystic Valley Water company, which asks that a committee be named to decide the value of 16 acres of land near Deane's pond, in Mystic, which is claimed for the water supply of Mystic and Stonington. The land is owned by Eugene Palmer and others. The evidence was heard and the matter continued until Jan. 27.

Found a Split Rail.

A split rail found Thursday by Samuel Anderson, in charge of signals at Stonington, averted perhaps what might have been a serious wreck to the Bay State Limited express from Boston over the New London & Hartford railroad. Anderson discovered the rail five minutes before time for the train to pass, and the train proceeded slowly over the defect and a new rail was immediately put in its place.

Arcanum Club Pool.

At the Arcanum club Thursday evening John C. Blaisland, who has been playing pool in the handicap tournament were played. The big game was between Swan and Harwood, in which the former won by a score of 85 to 55. According to the handicap Harwood made 128 points to win while Swan won when he reached 85. Jordan beat Williams 90 to 70. Stearns beat Brown 90 to 10. Church beat Rawson 85 to 58.

Dance at State Hospital.

The nurses at the Norwich state hospital gave a dance Thursday evening to a number of their friends, there being about 80 in attendance. Music was furnished by Galligan's orchestra. Guests were present from Hallville, Poquetanuck and Norwich. Refreshments were served. It was a leap year affair.

TOWN CLERK AT 23.

Eldon L. Hilditch Begins Duties at Enfield.
 Eldon L. Hilditch, Enfield's new town clerk, took office January 1st, succeeding John C. Blaisland, who has held the office nearly a dozen years. His term of office is for two years and he is probably the youngest town clerk in the state. Hilditch is 23 years old, and was elected town clerk, and town treasurer on a citizen-democrat ticket at the October election. His friends look to see him make good for the town.

Thompsonville, August 10, 1888. He attended the local schools, and after being graduated from the high school entered Cushing academy, Ashburnham, Mass., remaining one year. Then he went to Yale law school, and was graduated with the class of 1910. While at Yale he was a member of the Corbett Court Law school society, and of the editorial board of the Yale Law Journal. He opened a law office in Thompsonville in September, 1910, and has been successful in his practice. On June 17, 1911 he married Miss May E. Little of Worcester, Mass., a former resident of Somers. He is a member of the Knights of Pythias, the Odd Fellows, Woodmen and Masons, and is a member of Washington Commandery, No. 1, of Hartford.

MORE SUBSCRIBERS TO BOTTLE CO.

Total of $11,250 Thus Far Pledged, While Half as Much More is Expected from Corporations Which Will Act Thereon—What Other Contributors Think.

Tuesday.
 The Eaton Chase Co.$750
 James B. Shannon 750

Wednesday.
 The Porteous & Mitchell Co. 1500
 The Reid & Hughes Co. 750
 Murphy & McGarry 750
 The Plaut-Cadden Co. 750
 The Edward Chappell Co. 750
 C. Morgan Williams 750
 Gilbert L. Hewitt 750
 Henry F. Parker 750
 The Manhattan Clothing Co. 750

Thursday.
 Col. Charles W. Gale$750
 The Parker-Davenport Co. 750
 Shea & Burke 750

Total$11,250

The above are the subscriptions to the fund for the Norwich Industrial Improvement company, which will buy the property and erect the building for the American Thermos Bottle company of New York, provided $75,000 is secured.

Including today, only 28 days remain in which to raise the necessary $75,000 to insure the locating here of the American Thermos Bottle company, which means that subscriptions at the rate of $2,500 a day, including today's, must be received in order to secure the desired sum.

Three More Subscribers.
 Practically that amount was raised on Thursday, as three shares of the industrial company which will buy the land and erect the building were subscribed, totaling $2,250. Eight corporations will be benefited by the locating here of the new concern.

Edwards, aged 7 years, was taken with the disease, and Thursday afternoon was taken to the Backus hospital.

Edith Rouleau, aged 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rouleau, of 21 Elm street, died at 6 o'clock Thursday morning with diphtheria following an illness of two weeks. She was the youngest of four children.

Edward, aged 7 years, was taken with the disease, and Thursday afternoon was taken to the Backus hospital.

Edith Rouleau, aged 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rouleau, of 21 Elm street, died at 6 o'clock Thursday morning with diphtheria following an illness of two weeks. She was the youngest of four children.

Edward, aged 7 years, was taken with the disease, and Thursday afternoon was taken to the Backus hospital.

Edith Rouleau, aged 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rouleau, of 21 Elm street, died at 6 o'clock Thursday morning with diphtheria following an illness of two weeks. She was the youngest of four children.

Edward, aged 7 years, was taken with the disease, and Thursday afternoon was taken to the Backus hospital.

Edith Rouleau, aged 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rouleau, of 21 Elm street, died at 6 o'clock Thursday morning with diphtheria following an illness of two weeks. She was the youngest of four children.

Edward, aged 7 years, was taken with the disease, and Thursday afternoon was taken to the Backus hospital.

Edith Rouleau, aged 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rouleau, of 21 Elm street, died at 6 o'clock Thursday morning with diphtheria following an illness of two weeks. She was the youngest of four children.

Edward, aged 7 years, was taken with the disease, and Thursday afternoon was taken to the Backus hospital.

Edith Rouleau, aged 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rouleau, of 21 Elm street, died at 6 o'clock Thursday morning with diphtheria following an illness of two weeks. She was the youngest of four children.

Edward, aged 7 years, was taken with the disease, and Thursday afternoon was taken to the Backus hospital.

Edith Rouleau, aged 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rouleau, of 21 Elm street, died at 6 o'clock Thursday morning with diphtheria following an illness of two weeks. She was the youngest of four children.

Edward, aged 7 years, was taken with the disease, and Thursday afternoon was taken to the Backus hospital.

Edith Rouleau, aged 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rouleau, of 21 Elm street, died at 6 o'clock Thursday morning with diphtheria following an illness of two weeks. She was the youngest of four children.

Edward, aged 7 years, was taken with the disease, and Thursday afternoon was taken to the Backus hospital.

Edith Rouleau, aged 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rouleau, of 21 Elm street, died at 6 o'clock Thursday morning with diphtheria following an illness of two weeks. She was the youngest of four children.

Edward, aged 7 years, was taken with the disease, and Thursday afternoon was taken to the Backus hospital.

Edith Rouleau, aged 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rouleau, of 21 Elm street, died at 6 o'clock Thursday morning with diphtheria following an illness of two weeks. She was the youngest of four children.

Edward, aged 7 years, was taken with the disease, and Thursday afternoon was taken to the Backus hospital.

Edith Rouleau, aged 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rouleau, of 21 Elm street, died at 6 o'clock Thursday morning with diphtheria following an illness of two weeks. She was the youngest of four children.

Edward, aged 7 years, was taken with the disease, and Thursday afternoon was taken to the Backus hospital.

Edith Rouleau, aged 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rouleau, of 21 Elm street, died at 6 o'clock Thursday morning with diphtheria following an illness of two weeks. She was the youngest of four children.

Edward, aged 7 years, was taken with the disease, and Thursday afternoon was taken to the Backus hospital.

Edith Rouleau, aged 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rouleau, of 21 Elm street, died at 6 o'clock Thursday morning with diphtheria following an illness of two weeks. She was the youngest of four children.

Edward, aged 7 years, was taken with the disease, and Thursday afternoon was taken to the Backus hospital.

Edith Rouleau, aged 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rouleau, of 21 Elm street, died at 6 o'clock Thursday morning with diphtheria following an illness of two weeks. She was the youngest of four children.

Edward, aged 7 years, was taken with the disease, and Thursday afternoon was taken to the Backus hospital.

Edith Rouleau, aged 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rouleau, of 21 Elm street, died at 6 o'clock Thursday morning with diphtheria following an illness of two weeks. She was the youngest of four children.

Edward, aged 7 years, was taken with the disease, and Thursday afternoon was taken to the Backus hospital.

Edith Rouleau, aged 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rouleau, of 21 Elm street, died at 6 o'clock Thursday morning with diphtheria following an illness of two weeks. She was the youngest of four children.

9th, 10th and 11th floors. As all the room have been put during the process of manufacture on all these floors it causes much inconvenience, and makes it understandable why they are asking for a factory that will have but one floor.

As soon as factory row will permit, they will begin blowing their own glass, and in fact, make many parts that they are now depending on other industries to make for them. The assembling under one roof of all the trades that enter into the manufacture of the many articles on which they hold patents will make a plant that every citizen of Norwich will be proud of. On each bottle made will appear the words "Made in Norwich, Conn.," and the whole world will soon learn that Norwich is the home of the Thermos bottle.

The committee believe that every citizen of Norwich should be proud to help raise the money necessary to get the company here, as it is the best opportunity ever had and by no means an experiment. New London raised over $100,000 for a woman's college and Norwich can surely raise $75,000 for an industry which means more in many ways than a college would. The only way to save the city grow, it is said, is through new industries, and this one is a winner.

Some of the Benefits.
 A few instances of the benefit to the city can be noted from the fact that the company used from $8,000 to $12,000 worth of gas a year, and they will use electricity for power, which will mean that all real estate will increase in value, hundreds of new houses will be built and the grand list will show a decided increase.

What Some Contributors Think.
 Other contributors are of the following opinion as to the great value of the company locating here:

The Parker-Davenport Co., by Henry B. Davenport, says: No business more located in Norwich than this one. I believe in the old adage, "nothing ventured, nothing gained," and I am glad to subscribe to a fund to be used for such good purpose. It is one of the greatest chances Norwich ever had.

Shea & Burke, by Daniel T. Shea, says: We cannot afford to lose it. It is more important to us than anything we will land it, which will be the means of getting other. We are willing to do our share. Norwich citizens ought not to neglect this opportunity now and be sorry afterwards.

Murphy & McGarry, by Timothy C. Murphy, says: I am heartily in favor of the idea. Norwich has been looking for such an industry for many years and now that the opportunity presents itself for landing such a highly recommended concern, every citizen should take hold and boost it. If we lose it, it will be a bad blow. It's time now for everyone to pull together.

C. Morgan Williams says: I endorse what these men have said. I consider it a good thing and Norwich will regret it if it lets the opportunity go by. I believe that the necessary amount will be raised.

Rutherford, by Daniel T. Shea, says: We are seeking a most commendable manufacturing concern. It is something which is worth mortgaging the town to obtain.

TYLER CASE WILL COME UP ON TUESDAY

Arrangements Have Been Made by State Attorney Ailing of New Haven.

Arrangements have been made by Attorney Ailing of New Haven whereby the case of the state vs. Joseph Tyler, it is charged, was made by the state vs. the criminal superior court on Tuesday. It is understood that there will be no trial and that no witnesses have been summoned.

Mr. M. C. Miller testified that his three daughters attended the Miner lawn party and reached home between 10 and 11, she having seen them run across the street after the party. She said Gore had been calling on her daughter Clara for two years. Gore was at her house when Whitney Vergason called after the party. Both went away in about 10 minutes. She did not hear what Gore said when her daughter asked him where he had been.

Mrs. Josephine McNally testified that her daughter attended the party, returning home about 10:10, one being with her. Five minutes later the Jackson girl came for her apron. She did not appear out of breath, as if she had been running, and she was not cross examination it may have been 15 minutes after her daughter reached home that the Jackson girl called.

Daniel H. Gore testified that he met three girls after the party, among whom was the Jackson girl. They walked along as far as the McNally house. From there, he said, he went to the Miller house, having left the girls at the McNally house. He had in his pocket a bottle of pills. Others who testified were Mrs. Susan G. Gore, Stephen E. Peckham, John A. Brady, Doris Apply, Mary Joslyn, Frank Weaver and George E. Pitcher, concerning whom there was no testimony.

On June 13, 1911, Marie Jackson told her it was not Daniel Gore but some other one who assaulted her. Mr. Pitcher testified that the girl, who made a statement to the state attorney that she did not say that Marie Jackson told her it was not Gore.

Attorneys Hall and Ailing Brown have made their arguments.

Incidents in Society

The War Wann Wo were entertained Wednesday by Miss Lucy Greenman.

The Fortnightly met on Thursday afternoon with the Misses Bliss of Lincoln avenue.

Miss Carrie E. Rogers of Washington, D. C., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. James Lewis Smith of Broad street.

Mrs. Sherwood Potter and Mrs. J. Dyer Potter were in attendance at a whist given in Danielson Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Todd.

The Auction block was entertained Thursday by Mrs. E. E. Perry. The prize, two handkerchiefs, was taken by Miss Lucy Greenman.

Mrs. Arthur Thompson entertains at her home in Storran avenue this afternoon in honor of Mrs. Herbert M. George of St. Paul, Minn.